Screening R/T/D

- ❖ The General Services Administration (GSA) redesigned the process to:
 - Require all federal agencies, including DoD, to compete for property using the Federal Disposal System (FEDS).
 - Standardize disposal of excess personal property
- ❖ DRMS will share the screening cycles with GSA

The New Screening Timeline

FORMAL SCREENING TIMELINE

For Reutilization Customers: What It Means to You

- ❖ DRMS instituted a 14-calendar day, exclusive window of opportunity for DoD: first-come, first-process
- ❖ Exclusive DoD screening includes accumulation period (up to 7 days) plus 14 for formal screening before GSA gains control.
- ❖ Served at the beginning of the screening After 21 days, Reutilization customers can:
 - Claim items excess to other Federal agencies
 - Screen and freeze property through FEDS.
 - Still submit Priority 1-3 emergency requisitions to DRMS.
- ❖ DoD and Special Programs have an additional 2-day period to requisition property from DRMS

Recommendations

- For best access to available DoD property, requisition property during 14-day DoD screening cycle through DRMS.
- If you have a recurring need for specific NSNs, sign up with DRMS for automated batch searches and let the system do your searching.

FEDS Information

- ❖ Through FEDS, DoD customers:
 - Gain access to excess property of other Federal agencies.
 - May screen and freeze property electronically.
 - Compete with other authorized agencies for property.
- ❖ To obtain FEDS account to freeze property, send email to:
 - Fedsaccess@gsa.gov giving name, address, phone number, email address, and DoD Activity Code.

How DRMS Will Help

- ❖ Assets will remain visible on the DRMS website
 - Property searches will provide a “clickable” icon that will route the user to the correct DRMS or FEDS screen
 - Customer can utilize the DRMS Customer PC
- ❖ DRMS will continue pursuing improvements in quality of on-line data.
- ❖ DRMS will provide FEDs access information
